

Understanding Past and Present Cultures: Bringing Project Archaeology into the Classroom

Workshop Application • Dates: August 1-3, 2012 • Location: SEKESC, Greenbush (Girard)

The three-day workshop will focus on modeling national and Kansas-specific Project Archaeology materials. The curricula are multidisciplinary, inquiry-based, and designed for, but not limited to, grades three-eight. The National Council for the Social Sciences has endorsed the national Project Archaeology: Investigating Shelter. The Kansas Historical Society units are correlated with Kansas Department of Education curriculum standards. There is no cost for registration or materials.

What is offered:

- Project Archaeology: Investigating Shelter
- Kansas-specific curricula materials
- Professional development points or two graduate credit hours from Baker University
- Interactive fun

Name: _____

Home phone: _____ Other phone: _____

Street address: _____

City, state, zip: _____

Email address: _____

School name, city: _____

Grade level and subjects taught: _____

Briefly explain your interest in Project Archaeology: _____

Are you interested in using Project Archaeology curriculum in your classroom? _____

Do you plan to take the workshop for college credit? _____

Please return completed form by July 15, 2012, to Virginia A. Wulfkuhle
Kansas Historical Society
6425 SW 6th Avenue
Topeka KS 66615-1099
vwulfkuhle@kshs.org

