

Cup Object Card

This cup is made from the horn of a bull buffalo. Horn cups had many uses. They could be used to hold a drink or to store food. Enough dried food could be packed into it to feed a person for two weeks. It was also valuable when starting campfires. In the morning a hot ember could be placed inside a horn cup. When making a new camp that evening the ember would be hot enough to start a new fire.

