Dear Friends:

The Kansas Museum of History capital campaign’s goal is to raise $7 million dollars for an extensive renovation of the main gallery consisting of new exhibits, comprehensive content revisions, and digital platform development. At the 2019 Kansas Historical Foundation Annual Members and Board Meeting, we celebrated the campaign’s lead gifts from the Dane G. Hansen Foundation, the Sunderland Foundation ($1 million each), and the Lewis H. Humphreys Trust, Bank of America Trustee, ($250,000); additionally, launching the public phase of the campaign with more than 60 percent raised; more than $1.1 million in FY 2020, resulting in an impressive year! The campaign’s energy and amazing momentum carried us into 2020.

Our lives all changed in March 2020 as the COVID-19 health pandemic drastically impacted how we live and work. The staff members quickly assessed its strategy and made an intentional shift in its fundraising approach. We developed a plan to identify and cultivate new donors that had not been previously included, however, those that possess strong philanthropic interests in supporting Kansas nonprofit organizations. By expanding this universe, we are starting a new dialogue with entities from across the state of Kansas that may have little awareness of the significant impact on how the Kansas Historical Society engages and educates students and visitors. This new effort will have a positive impact on the overall fund development program.

A behind-the-scenes tour of the Museum and State Archives connects potential donors to our mission by showcasing the impressive collections and connecting them with their Kansas history. This experience makes an impact! Now we are leveraging our ability to connect with new donors by sharing a compelling case for support, and a new corporate giving program entitled UNITE! Kansas. This new program creates a giving and leadership opportunity for companies that benefits both parties, creating a new relationship by building a stronger community well into the future.

All new content development for the new gallery is currently being administered by staff members at the Kansas Historical Society along with Kansas history content experts. Their contribution will save the project hundreds of thousands of dollars that would otherwise be outsourced to a third party. As you may recall, Jennie Chinn, Kansas Historical Society executive director, is the writer of the seventh-grade textbook now available to all Kansas schools (Gibbs-Smith Publisher). The experience of rewriting the original textbook makes Jennie and her team the best resource for this project.
Once the script is completed, the exhibit design, fabrication, and installation process will be implemented with a cost of approximately $6 million. We believe that with our new fundraising strategy, we are moving in the right direction and will meet our fundraising goal by having the support from generous donors like you! This project is essential. Every day we are taking steps to engage a broader audience and raise additional funding. You are vital to our success—help us achieve this goal by contacting businesses in your community to consider financially supporting this important project. We want every corner of the state and every county involved.

Thank you for your membership and financial support. We could not create, what will be a must-see attraction in Kansas, without you. You make the difference.

Announcing a Generous Gift to the Capital Campaign

Lewis H. Humphreys Charitable Trust, Bank of America Trustee

The Lewis H. Humphreys Charitable Trust, Bank of America Trustee, pledged $250,000, to be given over two years, toward new exhibits for the Kansas Museum of History.

The Humphreys Trust supports important programming for underserved and disadvantaged populations in east central Kansas.

Lewis Hyde Humphreys was born on February 7, 1922 and passed away January 19, 2007. Humphreys was a rancher, businessman, and philanthropist who lived in Arvonia and Osage City.

Because of his passion for helping the underserved and disadvantaged, he assisted nursing home residents, provided scholarships to handicapped students at Emporia State University and built a therapeutic pool at the Cappers Foundation located in Topeka, KS.

The Kansas Historical Foundation and Kansas Museum of History are honored to be a part of Lewis H. Humphreys’ legacy of generous contributions.
Mission, to provide private funds to the Kansas Historical Society, so that it can be a better society than the state alone can provide.

To extend the learning experience through our retail stores

Seth Campbell of CampbellInks is a Kansas State University graduate student studying architecture and community planning. Seth loves sketching the details of the world around him, including the Kansas State Capitol. We are excited about this new addition to our retail stores, go online at store.kshs.org to purchase one.

Provide funds for the Kansas Historical Society to touch more people

Claire Reinert was the recipient of the John Ripley Internship this summer. Claire did some great work doing deep dives in Kansas history research for social media and the new exhibits. She is now in graduate school at the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill.

To connect people more closely with the Kansas Historical Society’s programs

More than 1,600 members receive the quarterly magazine: Kansas History, A Journal of the Central Plains, an academic journal with peer reviewed new research. Our Kansas Stories, a look into unique Kansas themes that had an impact on the nation, was issued three times and more than 2,100 received the new magazine by mail.
The R.E. French Family Foundation provided funds for a new photo studio light kit, which has improved the quality and consistency of still and spherical imaging and the digital presentation of historical documents and artifacts in exhibits and online on kansasmemory.org.

The Marjorie and Ralph Crump Acquisition Endowment provided funds to purchase several permanent additions to the State Archives manuscript collection.
$500 in funding was provided to Laura Murphy for supplies to conduct the geomorph and phytolith analysis for artifacts from the Kansas Archeology Training Program field school at the Tobias Site in Rice County, which was held in 2019.

Funds were provided for repairs to Cottonwood Ranch that included front porch repair and repainting, kitchen floor repairs, termite protection and storm damage tree cleanup and trimming.

The Dane G. Hansen Foundation’s Enrichment Opportunities for Northwest Kansas Schools helped cover admission and transportation subsidies to Hollenberg Pony Express Station State Historic Site, Hanover; Pawnee Indian Museum State Historic Site, Republic; and Fort Hays State Historic Site, Hays.
Celebrating lives of service and passion

Vice president of the Kansas Historical Foundation board of directors. F. Dave Seaton, publisher of the Winfield Courier and long-time member of the Kansas Historical Society and Kansas Historical Foundation Board of Directors passed away on April 18, 2020.
