LECOMPTON, KS—The Kansas Historical Society announced that the Lecompton Reenactors will present the play Kansas Territorial Characters 2 p.m. Sunday, January 6, at Constitution Hall State Historic Site. The acting troupe will portray some of the notable people from the Bleeding Kansas era. Admission is $3 adults, $1 students. Kansas Historical Foundation members and children five and younger are admitted free. Constitution Hall is located at 319 Elmore, Lecompton.

The dramatization is set in a 1850s Kansas territorial town hall political meeting. The historical portrayals include Charles and Sara Robinson, James Lane, John Brown, Andrew Reeder, Clarina Nichols, David Atchison, John Stringfellow, Samuel Jones, and Mahala Doyle as they passionately discuss the issue of slavery in Kansas, both pro and con. Kansas Territorial Characters is written by J. Howard Duncan. For more information, call 785-887-6520, or visit kshs.org/constitution_hall.

The January 6 presentation of the play is the third in a series. Additional productions are scheduled for March 3, April 7, and May 5, 2013.

Constitution Hall State Historic Site is one of 16 state historic sites operated by the Kansas Historical Society, a state agency.
