Dickinson, Saline & Ottawa Rural Electric Cooperative:
Papers, annual reports, and correspondence of Timothy F. Kelley
1936-1954

Cite as: Dickinson, Saline & Ottawa (DS&O) Rural Electric Cooperative papers, etc., 1936-1954, Ms. Coll. 862, Kansas Historical Society.

Introduction

Timothy Francis Kelley was born August 8, 1887 on the Kelley family farm just south of Solomon, Kansas. After a short career in the banking business, Mr. Kelley returned to the family farm, after his marriage in 1918, and farmed there for the remainder of his life. In 1936, he organized his farm neighbors into forming the Dickinson, Saline & Ottawa Rural Electric Cooperative to bring the benefits of electricity to farm families in the tri-county area. Under the guidance of John M. Carmody, director of the federal Rural Electrification Administration and a Kelley family friend, the DS&O was the first rural electric cooperative in Kansas to receive a federal start-up loan. Mr. Kelley was elected president of the DS&O Board of Directors at their organizational meeting on April 8, 1937 and served in that capacity continuously until his death on December 28, 1954.

Scope and Content

This collection of annual reports, audit and evaluation reports, correspondence, and notes regarding the first years of the DS&O and early efforts to encourage farmers in the tri-county area to subscribe to rural electrification were found among the personal papers of T.F. Kelley.

Additional information on the Kelley family of Saline County, Kansas and on the history of the DS&O Rural Electric Cooperative can be found in the collections of the Kansas Historical Society.
