HISTORY

First Baptist Church of Lindsborg

Olof Lind (or Lindh) — believed to be the first Baptist in the Lindsborg, Kansas, area — arrived in 1869 with his wife, Anna. When other like-minded people settled in the vicinity, they gathered in his home for Bible reading, singing, and prayer.

On 30 November 1880 the Swedish Baptist Church of Lindsborg was formed under the supervision of the Reverend Mr. August Johnson of Enterprise, Kansas, with twelve charter members.

As a result of disagreements, members of the Church decided to disband on 6 November 1886. However, two weeks later, another attempt was made to form a Baptist church. At first, the group met in homes without a minister, but in 1887 the American Baptist Home Missionary Society funded a missionary pastor. Later, the Methodists permitted the Baptists to use their building for Sunday afternoon services.

A Sunday School was organized around 1888. At a later time, an after-school religious instructional program was added.

Efforts to raise money and build a church of their own succeeded, and the Swedish Baptists' first building was dedicated in 1892. A parsonage was added in 1904.

In 1910, it was felt that there were a sufficient number of Baptists north of Lindsborg that a congregation was formed in Falun. This drew a significant number of members from the Lindsborg church, but most returned after the Falun congregation closed about 1920.
Meanwhile, in Lindsborg, the church building was proving to be insufficient, so a new structure was built in 1919.

As cultural differences became less significant, the Swedish Baptist churches in Kansas became more involved in the work of other Baptist bodies. First Baptist Church of Lindsborg joined the Central Association of the American Baptist State Convention in 1934.

The congregation through the years has supported missionary efforts and Baptist colleges and universities and conducted local prayer and instructional groups. Through the years, there have been several women’s and youth groups. The Church has worked with others in Lindsborg for common efforts such as Vacation Bible School and ministry to the needy.

Hampered for many years by the architectural barriers and other deficiencies of their 1919 building, the congregation purchased land for a new building in 1996 and completed their newest church in 2005.

Swedish Baptist Church, Falun

A. B. Colvin was called in 1909 to be the first pastor for a new congregation to serve northern McPherson and southern Saline counties, many members of which came from the Swedish Baptist Church in Lindsborg. The church was established 15 May 1910. The congregation purchased a schoolhouse to use as church building. “After some years,” or about 1920, the church was not thriving, so the decision was made to close. Many of the members returned to the Baptist Church in Lindsborg.

SCOPE AND CONTENTS OF THE RECORDS

These operational records can be used to provide information about the history of Swedish Baptist congregations in Lindsborg and Falun.

The first series, “Baptismal, Membership, and Officials’ Records, 1880 – 1986, are the most comprehensive records, containing information on pastors, elected officials, and members as well as statistical information. The “Matrickel för Svenska Baptist Församlingen i Lindsborg, Kans.” (“Membership Rolls of the Swedish Baptist Congregation in Lindsborg, Kans.”), series 2, provides more detailed information about each member.

Information about children’s and youth activities is recorded in series 3. The “Ungdomsföreningens Sekretarare Bok” (“Youth Society Secretary’s Book”), 1915 – 1923, contains meeting minutes and other records of the Baptist Young People’s Union (BYPU). The second volume, 1923 – 1948, is a treasurers’ book. Other, State - level, records of the Swedish BYPU are in series 8. The third volume contains information about infants.

Minutes and other records of the two original women’s groups, the Women’s Union (Ladies Aid) and the Sisters of Service, and records of the merged organization, the Women’s Missionary Union, in series 4 provide details about meetings, projects, and devotions conducted by these groups.

The eight volumes of minutes of congregational, annual, and business meetings, series 5, trace important and routine events in the life of the congregation through 1950. In a similar way through different means, the financial records, series 6, show projects and priorities of the Church and how funding was obtained to finance them.

In general, records prior to the 1930s are in Swedish. Most records after 1940 are in English, though specifics are noted in the descriptions of each records series, below.

Following the six series of records of the Lindsborg Church is a minute book for the Swedish Baptist Church at Falun and a book containing minutes, clippings, programs, correspondence, and other documents relating to the statewide Swedish Baptist Young People’s Union; for part of the period, this organization also embraced western Missouri.

On the microfilm, inserts were filmed where inserted, even though they may not be relevant to surrounding pages. Blank pages were not filmed.
