Notes. :

1. This Quad digitization mapping project is dedicated to Lee and Dorothy Kroh in commemoration of the 200th Anniversary of the Santa Fe Trail in 2021. The project represents years of efforts by the Kroh's to map the historic frontier trail routes noted above.
2. These Quads represent the route of the Santa Fe Trail as it traversed between Boonville/Franklin, MO and Santa Fe, NM; segments of the Oregon California Trail in the Kansas City Region; the Fort Leavenworth – Fort Scott Military Road; and Territorial Roads of the Kansas City region. Digitized U.S.G.S. State Index Maps are included as reference indicating general trail routings.
3. In addition to the digitization of 254 original Quads as noted above, an additional (8) replica black & white prints were utilized by Mr. Kroh and deemed of value. They have been digitized and included within Group 3 and Group 4 respectively. The digitized black & white prints are numbered corresponding to its respective original Quad, with a suffix 'R' added to the Quad number (e.g. 222R).
4. The listing of Quads NOT DIGITIZED reflects those Quads used for general reference in the mapping process by Lee and Dorothy Kroh.
5. For detailed information regarding the Kroh's mapping of the historic frontier trails, and evolutionary development of the Quad digitization project, access the website of the KANSAS CITY AREA HISTORIC TRAILS ASSOCIATION at www.kcahta.org.

Jessup (today's Louisiana), this military road was intended to bolster western defenses along the frontier border between Indian territory and the western border of the United States. The segment between Ft. Leavenworth and Ft. Scott was part of this frontier defense system for both native and immigrant populations.
