Describe present and historic physical appearance.

The Doniphan County Waddell "A" truss, erected in ca. 1900, is a rivited pony truss. The single span is 36 feet long and 20 feet wide. The deck rises 14 feet above the stream bed.

The members of a truss bridge are designated either as chord members or web members. Chord members are those mainly defining the outlines of the structure and they are termed lower or upper chord members depending on whether they are found at the bottom or the top of the structure. Members between the chords are web members. They are called posts or ties if they sustain compression or tension respectively.

In the King Post truss, the end posts and top chord merge to form two sides, and the lower chord completes the triangle. The end post and top chord sides are in compression while the lower chord side is in tension. If diagonals and secondary verticals are added to the king post, it becomes a Waddell "A" truss. The secondary verticals are placed in tension and the diagonals act in compression. The Doniphan county bridge is fabricated out of channel stock. Connections are facilitated by the use of metal plates at connection points. All connections are rivited. The top chords, king post, diagonals and secondary verticals are made up of these channel beams. The bottom chord is single. One floor beam is attached to the king post and the sway brace. This in turn supports an I beam running the length of the panel. The wood decking is laid diagonally on top of these I beams. Few alterations have taken place and the bridge retains a high degree of its structural integrity.

State significance of property, and justify criteria, criteria considerations, and areas and periods of significance noted above.

The King Post is one of the oldest truss designs, serving well in many medieval buildings. As is evident they served as well as bridges into the 20th century. Its simplicity also establishes its limit. As the length increases so must the height, at the same ratio. It is therefore only practical in short spans. This was compensated somewhat by the development of a Waddell "A" Truss in the late 19th and early 20th century. The length of a Waddell could reach up to 75 feet.

No actual construction history of the Doniphan County Waddell "A" Truss has presently been located. Such structures were generally quite inexpensive and received little public notice. It was selected to be nominated because it is the only remaining example of the design in Kansas and it retains an outstanding degree of its integrity.
